

LANSING'S COATLESS WHEN WILSON CALLS

President Slips Through Basement Door to Shock Lovers of Formality.

NOT HIS FIRST "OFFENCE"

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—President Wilson did not have the satisfaction of breaking a precedent to-day when he slipped out through the basement door of the Executive office to make a call on Secretary of State Lansing at the State Department across the street.

Not only did President McKinley make a similar call on Secretary Hay during the Spanish American war, but Mr. Wilson himself has called upon members of his Cabinet before this to discuss official business with them.

More than a year ago it chanced to be only a short time after he had delivered one of his addresses to Congress—Mr. Wilson went to call on Secretary of the Interior Lane and Postmaster-General Burleson in their respective offices on the same day.

The President's action in going from the White House to the State Department with a sheet of important papers in his hand practically unattended did not fail, however, to attract a great deal of attention among those who are familiar with the usual formalities of Executive labors. The secret service men were thrown into a little panic by the news that the President had "escaped" again.

Before this they have had to hasten upon Mr. Wilson's trail without knowing how long he would be without their protection, a notable instance taking place the night after the news of the sinking of the Lusitania reached Washington.

That night, after having isolated himself in the White House all day to give thought to the problems then facing the Government, the President started out for a walk through the streets of the capital. He was soon overtaken by the secret service men, however, and continued his walk carefully guarded.

Apparently the President's decision to pay a visit to Secretary Lansing was reached without long deliberation to-day. Having concluded his study of certain State Department documents, it occurred to him to take them across the street to Mr. Lansing, instead of following the usual procedure of sending them over by a White House messenger.

The wish quickly fathered the thought with the President, and a few minutes after the idea occurred to him, he had passed through the office of Secretary Tumulty and that of the assistant secretary, through the West Wing and down the little stairway into the basement, which has an exit on the sidewalk to the west of the White House.

He walked up the stairs at the State Department and without knocking on Secretary Lansing's door walked in and announced himself. Mr. Lansing was sitting at his desk in his shirt sleeves talking with Mrs. Lansing. With imperturbable courtesy the Secretary of State expressed his gratification at the honor which was being paid him, and then proceeded to a discussion of the matters which were in the President's mind.

TO INDORSE WILSON ANYWAY.

Sheriff Kinkead Says So at Outing Attended by 3,000.

More than 3,000 Hudson county Democrats went on the outing of the John P. Egan Association to College Point yesterday. It was the largest political excursion yet held in Jersey City since the days when Bob Davis marched at the head of the Democratic parade. Sheriff Eugene Kinkead, who was among those present, said that the defeat of Naval Officer H. Otto Wittmann and his followers at the Democratic primary on September 23, He said:

"We will beat the Wittmann ticket two to one. After that Wittmann and I will be the best of friends again. Wittmann and I are now here for a suffrage and after September 23 we will agree on a lot more things. We will have a reunited Democratic party after the primaries and the party will then be invincible. This is the last year of the so-called Wittmann Democracy. It will be the United Democracy after September 23.

The Sheriff reiterated his declaration that the meeting called for Saturday night will be the last of the Wittmann term, even though Joseph P. Tumulty, the President's secretary, did request that no such action be taken.

U. S. EXPORT FIGURES STILL SKYROCKETING

Week Ending Sept. 4 a Record Breaker—Munition Shipments Climb Steadily.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—The big volume of exports from this country was maintained at the same rate for the week ending September 4, according to figures issued to-day by the Department of Commerce.

The valuation of the products sent abroad from the thirteen principal customs districts was $60,971,198. The week before the figures were practically the same, $60,511,754. They were the two biggest export weeks since March 13 and March 20, and came at a time of the year when shipments abroad are usually at the lowest ebb. The exports for the week ended March 12 were $69,840,779, and for the succeeding week $67,735,181. Due to a considerable increase in the imports over the week ended August 23, the latest report shows a shrinkage in the balance of trade, which, however, is favorable to the United States to the extent of $27,416,721. The balance the week before was $38,269,029, the greatest since March 12, when the excess of exports was $47,229,659. The imports of the September 4 week were $32,454,477, an increase of $5,417,752 over the preceding week.

The exports of the New York district were $34,085,003. New York's shipments were more than $8,260,000 in excess of the combined exports of the other twelve districts. Her imports were $20,770,210, giving her a trade balance of $13,314,793.

$200,000 for Cleveland Library. CLEVELAND, Sept. 8.—Announcement of a gift of $200,000 to the Cleveland Medical Library was made to-day by the library council. The gift is provided for in the will of Dr. Dudley P. Allen of Cleveland, who died in New York last January. Dr. Allen, one of Cleveland's foremost surgeons, founded the library in 1894.

BUSINESS MEN SEEK A PART IN DEFENCE PLAN

Bernard M. Baruch Asks Wilson to Let Them "Mobilize" Trade Resources as They Do in Germany—President Impressed.

POINTS TO BIG EXPORTS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—A plan looking to the participation of business men in any programme to strengthen the national defenses that may be prepared under the direction of President Wilson was made the subject of a White House conference to-day in which the President and Bernard M. Baruch of New York took part. Mr. Baruch suggested the appointment of a commission of business men to "mobilize" the business resources of the United States in such a way as to make these forces effective in the event of war. He pointed out that in preparing for war Germany organized her business and industrial resources, and that this work was placed on a par with the training of soldiers for service in the field and the manufacture of munitions to equip her armies.

He strongly urged that the United States should not overlook this phase of preparation when the time comes to lay down a progressive policy in the development of the army and navy of this country. It is understood that Mr. Baruch's argument along these lines made a strong impression on the President and that a business commission such as was proposed may be made a part of the military programme to be submitted to Congress at the forthcoming session.

Unfolded Big Plan. Mr. Baruch, who is a close personal friend of the President, on this basis spent some time in unfolding the business commission plan to Mr. Wilson. He pointed out that the Secretary of War is working on a programme to enlarge and better equip the army and that like work was being done in the Navy Department by Secretary Daniels.

He recalled that Secretary Daniels had decided to create an advisory board, composed of such men as Thomas A. Edison, who would be entrusted with the duty of devising and developing new weapons of warfare. It was the duty of the government, he said, to create a commission of business men, who would advise the Government concerning financial needs and the productivity of manufacturing in time of war.

Mr. Baruch illustrated the view he had in mind. He suggested that in case of an emergency the Government should be in a position to utilize the services of men engaged in the manufacture of munitions, packing house products, clothing, arms, ships and other material necessary to equip armies and navies for effective warfare. He pointed out that much of Germany's success could be attributed to preparedness along these lines indicated.

Mr. Baruch argued that such an organization is just as essential in the conduct of modern warfare as the training of soldiers and the manufacturing of war ships. He expressed the hope that the plan would be incorporated in the President's military programme.

Business Men Favor It.

It is known that business men generally are in harmony with the ideas advanced by Mr. Baruch. Some weeks ago when the relations of the United States with Germany seemed to be at the breaking point a delegation of steel men from Pennsylvania came to Washington to inform the President that their plans would be placed at the disposal of the Government in the event of war. Like profers have come from other sections of the country. Mr. Baruch told the President that the business men of the United States favored a programme of preparedness and that they were ready at a moment's notice to place their plans at the disposal of the Government.

Officials of the War and Navy Departments were very much interested in the plan proposed by Mr. Baruch. It should be noted that Mr. Baruch's comment on it in the absence of a statement on the subject at the White House. Privately they endorsed the plan as extremely practical and one that would have great value in the event of a programme of preparedness now being formulated by the President.

It is understood that some of the business men who were present at the day by day will be conveyed to the proper officials of the War and Navy Departments with instructions that they act accordingly.

Mr. Baruch got a cordial reception at the White House. This is his first call there since Mr. Wilson became President. After his visit to the White House Mr. Baruch had a brief conference with Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo. It is understood that the financial situation with particular reference to cotton conditions in the South was under consideration.

It will be recalled that Mr. Baruch made a large contribution to the cotton fund that was subscribed some months ago to relieve conditions in the South. Mr. Baruch returned to New York late this afternoon.

"Older men here remember how in the '60s men were passion torn and how patience was the great quality needed in the White House, and how a man, almost more than Lincoln, embodied that spirit."

"We had another crisis in our history. You remember the passionate appeal for peace before the Spanish-American war and how certain of the press would not stay from denouncing the President in the White House."

Know What War Meant. "But McKinley, that great soldier who like Lincoln was the incarnation of patience, knew what war meant. He sat in the White House alone until the time came when the national honor demanded it he was for war."

"A third crisis has been upon this country for months, a crisis which touched the whole world. When there was a conflagration in every country except America, when there was a war on every door except in this country, there was a prayer and hope and faith that this war would end in peace, and that Lincoln and McKinley have divine patience and divine justice."

"Woodrow Wilson in a speech in Congress said that he had a passion for peace. I feel to-night that this country is to be congratulated. Another Lincoln and another McKinley, in Woodrow Wilson, presides over the destinies of America. Let us hope that the use of the sword will be preserved with peace. We all know that with firmness, honor and justice American interests will be preserved."

Secretary Daniels added that the nation's future defence will depend on scientific advancement in chemistry. Men are not needed so much as invention.

The discovery almost created a panic, but two mine sweepers were seen coming to the rescue. They snared the mine in their net and exploded it with deck guns. Following this experience the Ryndam was held in the Downs for twenty-four hours to make sure that her way was clear.

The passengers also had two other tastes of war conditions, once when they heard heavy firing off the Belgian coast and again about 100 miles east of Nantucket, when the liner almost collided with a warship in a heavy fog. The name and nationality of the warship could not be made out, but it was thought to be one of the British patrol ships.

Among the passengers was William L. Walker, who has been a cotton merchant in Germany for nine years. He said Germany is now using a mixture of cellulose and wood pulp for cotton, although she has a supply of the genuine article on hand sufficient to last for two years with ease.

Richard Schilling, an American representing the New York Life Insurance Company in Stuttgart, Germany, who has been appointed German Consul to Guatemala, was on board, as were Mrs. Rosika Schimmer and Mrs. Chrystal McMillan, peace delegates, who have come with a petition to President Wilson.

WON'T MAKE BRITAIN'S TOO. Teuton Machinists Quit When Employers Take Contract. CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—On learning that the British Government had accepted a contract from Great Britain for tools to be used in making shrapnel, seventy-five Austrians and German machinists quit work.

William Cameron, president of the company, said: "The men made no demand for higher wages, shorter hours or changes in working conditions. They just walked out and tied up our plant."

President S. M. Hastings of the Illinois Manufacturers Association said that the strike was one of many called to his attention in the last few weeks.

French Life Sailings as Usual. Special Cable Dispatch to THE SUN. PARIS, Sept. 8.—Officials of the French line assert that sailings from and to Bordeaux will remain unchanged despite even the most drastic of submarine attacks. The company thus far has not received any special details concerning the losses of the liners Bordeaux and Guatemala.

War Talk at Tent Evangel.

The big Tent Evangel on West 124th street near Morningside avenue will close September 13. Dr. A. C. Dixon will speak to-night on "War Conditions in England." Dr. Cortland Myers of Tremont Temple, Boston, will speak Friday night—Sunday afternoon and evening Dr. J. Wilbur Chapman and Charles M. Alexander will conduct the meeting.

BE PATIENT, URGES SECRETARY DANIELS

Holds Up Wilson, Like Lincoln, as Great Example of Forbearance.

POINTS TO BIG EXPORTS

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 8.—In a speech here to-night Secretary of the Navy Daniels urged the continuance of patience on the part of the American people, and likened President Wilson, in his patience, to Lincoln and McKinley.

Secretary Daniels was the principal speaker at the tenth annual banquet of the Federation of Trade Press Associations.

In leading up to his picture of President Wilson as a worthy successor of Lincoln and McKinley the Secretary told his auditors of the advantages which have already accrued to the United States through its non-participation in the world turmoil. He emphasized the increased exports of this country, which, he said, have now reached a value greater than any other country in the world.

He gave figures to prove that the greater portion of the increase has not been due to the new business in munitions, but to the exportation of wheat, flour, meats, dairy products, clothing and grains of various sorts.

New Trade Fields Open.

As further reward for non-participation in the world conflict Mr. Daniels pointed out the new fields of trade which have opened up in South America, and that the United States is in a position to far of American business men to be successful in those countries.

Study the needs of the countries' banking facilities and ships, and the Secretary said that the United States is in a position to supply them.

Mr. Daniels said that he trembled to think what would have happened had the European war begun in 1914. "If we have the vision," he continued, "and we have the power to make it, let us before us we will take our place as the greatest industrial nation in the world."

"We have been fortunate in our crisis that we have had a man who knew how to steer the ship of state into safe harbors. The hand of Providence has been with us in giving America a leader in the three crises that have come to our country in the last half century. There is no quality so divine as patience."

"Older men here remember how in the '60s men were passion torn and how patience was the great quality needed in the White House, and how a man, almost more than Lincoln, embodied that spirit."

"We had another crisis in our history. You remember the passionate appeal for peace before the Spanish-American war and how certain of the press would not stay from denouncing the President in the White House."

Know What War Meant. "But McKinley, that great soldier who like Lincoln was the incarnation of patience, knew what war meant. He sat in the White House alone until the time came when the national honor demanded it he was for war."

"A third crisis has been upon this country for months, a crisis which touched the whole world. When there was a conflagration in every country except America, when there was a war on every door except in this country, there was a prayer and hope and faith that this war would end in peace, and that Lincoln and McKinley have divine patience and divine justice."

"Woodrow Wilson in a speech in Congress said that he had a passion for peace. I feel to-night that this country is to be congratulated. Another Lincoln and another McKinley, in Woodrow Wilson, presides over the destinies of America. Let us hope that the use of the sword will be preserved with peace. We all know that with firmness, honor and justice American interests will be preserved."

Secretary Daniels added that the nation's future defence will depend on scientific advancement in chemistry. Men are not needed so much as invention.

The discovery almost created a panic, but two mine sweepers were seen coming to the rescue. They snared the mine in their net and exploded it with deck guns. Following this experience the Ryndam was held in the Downs for twenty-four hours to make sure that her way was clear.

The passengers also had two other tastes of war conditions, once when they heard heavy firing off the Belgian coast and again about 100 miles east of Nantucket, when the liner almost collided with a warship in a heavy fog. The name and nationality of the warship could not be made out, but it was thought to be one of the British patrol ships.

Among the passengers was William L. Walker, who has been a cotton merchant in Germany for nine years. He said Germany is now using a mixture of cellulose and wood pulp for cotton, although she has a supply of the genuine article on hand sufficient to last for two years with ease.

Richard Schilling, an American representing the New York Life Insurance Company in Stuttgart, Germany, who has been appointed German Consul to Guatemala, was on board, as were Mrs. Rosika Schimmer and Mrs. Chrystal McMillan, peace delegates, who have come with a petition to President Wilson.

WON'T MAKE BRITAIN'S TOO. Teuton Machinists Quit When Employers Take Contract. CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—On learning that the British Government had accepted a contract from Great Britain for tools to be used in making shrapnel, seventy-five Austrians and German machinists quit work.

William Cameron, president of the company, said: "The men made no demand for higher wages, shorter hours or changes in working conditions. They just walked out and tied up our plant."

President S. M. Hastings of the Illinois Manufacturers Association said that the strike was one of many called to his attention in the last few weeks.

French Life Sailings as Usual. Special Cable Dispatch to THE SUN. PARIS, Sept. 8.—Officials of the French line assert that sailings from and to Bordeaux will remain unchanged despite even the most drastic of submarine attacks. The company thus far has not received any special details concerning the losses of the liners Bordeaux and Guatemala.

War Talk at Tent Evangel. The big Tent Evangel on West 124th street near Morningside avenue will close September 13. Dr. A. C. Dixon will speak to-night on "War Conditions in England." Dr. Cortland Myers of Tremont Temple, Boston, will speak Friday night—Sunday afternoon and evening Dr. J. Wilbur Chapman and Charles M. Alexander will conduct the meeting.

French Life Sailings as Usual. Special Cable Dispatch to THE SUN. PARIS, Sept. 8.—Officials of the French line assert that sailings from and to Bordeaux will remain unchanged despite even the most drastic of submarine attacks. The company thus far has not received any special details concerning the losses of the liners Bordeaux and Guatemala.

War Talk at Tent Evangel. The big Tent Evangel on West 124th street near Morningside avenue will close September 13. Dr. A. C. Dixon will speak to-night on "War Conditions in England." Dr. Cortland Myers of Tremont Temple, Boston, will speak Friday night—Sunday afternoon and evening Dr. J. Wilbur Chapman and Charles M. Alexander will conduct the meeting.

French Life Sailings as Usual. Special Cable Dispatch to THE SUN. PARIS, Sept. 8.—Officials of the French line assert that sailings from and to Bordeaux will remain unchanged despite even the most drastic of submarine attacks. The company thus far has not received any special details concerning the losses of the liners Bordeaux and Guatemala.

War Talk at Tent Evangel. The big Tent Evangel on West 124th street near Morningside avenue will close September 13. Dr. A. C. Dixon will speak to-night on "War Conditions in England." Dr. Cortland Myers of Tremont Temple, Boston, will speak Friday night—Sunday afternoon and evening Dr. J. Wilbur Chapman and Charles M. Alexander will conduct the meeting.

French Life Sailings as Usual. Special Cable Dispatch to THE SUN. PARIS, Sept. 8.—Officials of the French line assert that sailings from and to Bordeaux will remain unchanged despite even the most drastic of submarine attacks. The company thus far has not received any special details concerning the losses of the liners Bordeaux and Guatemala.

War Talk at Tent Evangel. The big Tent Evangel on West 124th street near Morningside avenue will close September 13. Dr. A. C. Dixon will speak to-night on "War Conditions in England." Dr. Cortland Myers of Tremont Temple, Boston, will speak Friday night—Sunday afternoon and evening Dr. J. Wilbur Chapman and Charles M. Alexander will conduct the meeting.

DANIELS DEFENDS U. S. SUBMARINES

Two New Batteries Made by Edison to Be Given Tryout.

WILL SCRAP OLD BOATS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—Secretary Daniels in an interview to-day defended the submarine flotilla of the United States navy from charges made against its efficiency since the sinking of the P-4. Mr. Daniels said that most of the American submarines are as good as any constructed before the European war started. No nation, he said, is satisfied with its marine engines and batteries.

"We have just arranged for putting in two Edison batteries," added the Secretary. "One we have already put in submarine E-2, at the New York Navy Yard, and the other will be put in the L-8, now building at the Portsmouth Navy Yard."

"When Capt. Grant was appointed to assume charge of the submarines he was authorized to take up the whole matter, and he is giving his entire time and thought to it," the Secretary continued. "He is going to see that if there is any submarine built in the olden times which is no good it should be consigned to the scrap heap, and all others needing to be repaired and put in ship shape. Most of our submarines are in good shape. Of course those built ten years ago are not so good as those built six years ago."

"Will the submarines do as good work as those abroad? No nation is satisfied with its submarine engines or batteries. We are using exactly the same battery and engine that they used in England, France and Germany when the war commenced. They may, in the stress of war, have made something better than we have."

"You ask about the German submarine that made the trip around Gibraltar to the Dardanelles. Some of our submarines have a radius of 5,000 miles. Recently several of them went 1,500 miles. We are doing our best. We are building the Schley, the biggest submarine ever laid down. It is 2,000 tons. We do not know what troubles the other countries are having. We have had only one accident, and every other country has had more submarines during peace than we have."

"I once requested Mr. Edison to visit a submarine with me. It was the first time he had ever been on either a battleship or submarine. I chose new batteries will solve the whole trouble."

"I am not unmindful of the fact that you and other officials under your charge with the duty of enforcing our criminal laws have already taken cognizance of the offences charged in these communications and are endeavoring to bring the offenders to justice and to prevent a repetition of such offences in the future. But I desire to call your attention to the situation relative to these offences and to the importance of the offences charged in these communications and are endeavoring to bring the offenders to justice and to prevent a repetition of such offences in the future. But I desire to call your attention to the situation relative to these offences and to the importance of the offences charged in these communications and are endeavoring to bring the offenders to justice and to prevent a repetition of such offences in the future. But I desire to call your attention to the situation relative to these offences and to the importance of the offences charged in these communications and are endeavoring to bring the offenders to justice and to prevent a repetition of such offences in the future. But I desire to call your attention to the situation relative to these offences and to the importance of the offences charged in these communications and are endeavoring to bring the offenders to justice and to prevent a repetition of such offences in the future. But I desire to call your attention to the situation relative to these offences and to the importance of the offences charged in these communications and are endeavoring to bring the offenders to justice and to prevent a repetition of such offences in the future. But I desire to call your attention to the situation relative to these offences and to the importance of the offences charged in these communications and are endeavoring to bring the offenders to justice and to prevent a repetition of such offences in the future. But I desire to call your attention to the situation relative to these offences and to the importance of the offences charged in these communications and are endeavoring to bring the offenders to justice and to prevent a repetition of such offences in the future. But I desire to call your attention to the situation relative to these offences and to the importance of the offences charged in these communications and are endeavoring to bring the offenders to justice and to prevent a repetition of such offences in the future. But I desire to call your attention to the situation relative to these offences and to the importance of the offences charged in these communications and are endeavoring to bring the offenders to justice and to prevent a repetition of such offences in the future. But I desire to call your attention to the situation relative to these offences and to the importance of the offences charged in these communications and are endeavoring to bring the offenders to justice and to prevent a repetition of such offences in the future. But I desire to call your attention to the situation relative to these offences and to the importance of the offences charged in these communications and are endeavoring to bring the offenders to justice and to prevent a repetition of such offences in the future. But I desire to call your attention to the situation relative to these offences and to the importance of the offences charged in these communications and are endeavoring to bring the offenders to justice and to prevent a repetition of such offences in the future. But I desire to call your attention to the situation relative to these offences and to the importance of the offences charged in these communications and are endeavoring to bring the offenders to justice and to prevent a repetition of such offences in the future. But I desire to call your attention to the situation relative to these offences and to the importance of the offences charged in these communications and are endeavoring to bring the offenders to justice and to prevent a repetition of such offences in the future. But I desire to call your attention to the situation relative to these offences and to the importance of the offences charged in these communications and are endeavoring to bring the offenders to justice and to prevent a repetition of such offences in the future. But I desire to call your attention to the situation relative to these offences and to the importance of the offences charged in these communications and are endeavoring to bring the offenders to justice and to prevent a repetition of such offences in the future. But I desire to call your attention to the situation relative to these offences and to the importance of the offences charged in these communications and are endeavoring to bring the offenders to justice and to prevent a repetition of such offences in the future. But I desire to call your attention to the situation relative to these offences and to the importance of the offences charged in these communications and are endeavoring to bring the offenders to justice and to prevent a repetition of such offences in the future. But I desire to call your attention to the situation relative to these offences and to the importance of the offences charged in these communications and are endeavoring to bring the offenders to justice and to prevent a repetition of such offences in the future. But I desire to call your attention to the situation relative to these offences and to the importance of the offences charged in these communications and are endeavoring to bring the offenders to justice and to prevent a repetition of such offences in the future. But I desire to call your attention to the situation relative to these offences and to the importance of the offences charged in these communications and are endeavoring to bring the offenders to justice and to prevent a repetition of such offences in the future. But I desire to call your attention to the situation relative to these offences and to the importance of the offences charged in these communications and are endeavoring to bring the offenders to justice and to prevent a repetition of such offences in the future. But I desire to call your attention to the situation relative to these offences and to the importance of the offences charged in these communications and are endeavoring to bring the offenders to justice and to prevent a repetition of such offences in the future. But I desire to call your attention to the situation relative to these offences and to the importance of the offences charged in these communications and are endeavoring to bring the offenders to justice and to prevent a repetition of such offences in the future. But I desire to call your attention to the situation relative to these offences and to the importance of the offences charged in these communications and are endeavoring to bring the offenders to justice and to prevent a repetition of such offences in the future. But I desire to call your attention to the situation relative to these offences and to the importance of the offences charged in these communications and are endeavoring to bring the offenders to justice and to prevent a repetition of such offences in the future. But I desire to call your attention to the situation relative to these offences and to the importance of the offences charged in these communications and are endeavoring to bring the offenders to justice and to prevent a repetition of such offences in the future. But I desire to call your attention to the situation relative to these offences and to the importance of the offences charged in these communications and are endeavoring to bring the offenders to justice and to prevent a repetition of such offences in the future. But I desire to call your attention to the situation relative to these offences and to the importance of the offences charged in these communications and are endeavoring to bring the offenders to justice and to prevent a repetition of such offences in the future. But I desire to call your attention to the situation relative to these offences and to the importance of the offences charged in these communications and are endeavoring to bring the offenders to justice and to prevent a repetition of such offences in the future. But I desire to call your attention to the situation relative to these offences and to the importance of the offences charged in these communications and are endeavoring to bring the offenders to justice and to prevent a repetition of such offences in the future. But I desire to call your attention to the situation relative to these offences and to the importance of the offences charged in these communications and are endeavoring to bring the offenders to justice and to prevent a repetition of such offences in the future. But I desire to call your attention to the situation relative to these offences and to the importance of the offences charged in these communications and are endeavoring to bring the offenders to justice and to prevent a repetition of such offences in the future. But I desire to call your attention to the situation relative to these offences and to the importance of the offences charged in these communications and are endeavoring to bring the offenders to justice and to prevent a repetition of such offences in the future. But I desire to call your attention to the situation relative to these offences and to the importance of the offences charged in these communications and are endeavoring to bring the offenders to justice and to prevent a repetition of such offences in the future. But I desire to call your attention to the situation relative to these offences and to the importance of the offences charged in these communications and are endeavoring to bring the offenders to justice and to prevent a repetition of such offences in the future. But I desire to call your attention to the situation relative to these offences and to the importance of the offences charged in these communications and are endeavoring to bring the offenders to justice and to prevent a repetition of such offences in the future. But I desire to call your attention to the situation relative to these offences and to the importance of the offences charged in these communications and are endeavoring to bring the offenders to justice and to prevent a repetition of such offences in the future. But I desire to call your attention to the situation relative to these offences and to the importance of the offences charged in these communications and are endeavoring to bring the offenders to justice and to prevent a repetition of such offences in the future. But I desire to call your attention to the situation relative to these offences and to the importance of the offences charged in these communications and are endeavoring to bring the offenders to justice and to prevent a repetition of such offences in the future. But I desire to call your attention to the situation relative to these offences and to the importance of the offences charged in these communications and are endeavoring to bring the offenders to justice and to prevent a repetition of such offences in the future. But I desire to call your attention to the situation relative to these offences and to the importance of the offences charged in these communications and are endeavoring to bring the offenders to justice and to prevent a repetition of such offences in the future. But I desire to call your attention to the situation relative to these offences and to the importance of the offences charged in these communications and are endeavoring to bring the offenders to justice and to prevent a repetition of such offences in the future. But I desire to call your attention to the situation relative to these offences and to the importance of the offences charged in these communications and are endeavoring to bring the offenders to justice and to prevent a repetition of such offences in the future. But I desire to call your attention to the situation relative to these offences and to the importance of the offences charged in these communications and are endeavoring to bring the offenders to justice and to prevent a repetition of such offences in the future. But I desire to call your attention to the situation relative to these offences and to the importance of the offences charged in these communications and are endeavoring to bring the offenders to justice and to prevent a repetition of such offences in the future. But I desire to call your attention to the situation relative to these offences and to the importance of the offences charged in these communications and are endeavoring to bring the offenders to justice and to prevent a repetition of such offences in the future. But I desire to call your attention to the situation relative to these offences and to the importance of the offences charged in these communications and are endeavoring to bring the offenders to justice and to prevent a repetition of such offences in the future. But I desire to call your attention to the situation relative to these offences and to the importance of the offences charged in these communications and are endeavoring to bring the offenders to justice and to prevent a repetition of such offences in the future. But I desire to call your attention to the situation relative to these offences and to the importance of the offences charged in these communications and are endeavoring to bring the offenders to justice and to prevent a repetition of such offences in the future. But I desire to call your attention to the situation relative to these offences and to the importance of the offences charged in these communications and are endeavoring to bring the offenders to justice and to prevent a repetition of such offences in the future. But I desire to call your attention to the situation relative to these offences and to the importance of the offences charged in these communications and are endeavoring to bring the offenders to justice and to prevent a repetition of such offences in the future. But I desire to call your attention to the situation relative to these offences and to the importance of the offences charged in these communications and are endeavoring to bring the offenders to justice and to prevent a repetition of such offences in the future. But I desire to call your attention to the situation relative to these offences and to the importance of the offences charged in these communications and are endeavoring to bring the offenders to justice and to prevent a repetition of such offences in the future. But I desire to call your attention to the situation relative to these offences and to the importance of the offences charged in these communications and are endeavoring to bring the offenders to justice and to prevent a repetition of such offences in the future. But I desire to call your attention to the situation relative to these offences and to the importance of the offences charged in these communications and are endeavoring to bring the offenders to justice and to prevent a repetition of such offences in the future. But I desire to call your attention to the situation relative to these offences and to the importance of the offences charged in these communications and are endeavoring to bring the offenders to justice and to prevent a repetition of such offences in the future. But I desire to call your attention to the situation relative to these offences and to the importance of the offences charged in these communications and are endeavoring to bring the offenders to justice and to prevent a repetition of such offences in the future. But I desire to call your attention to the situation relative to these offences and to the importance of the offences charged in these communications and are endeavoring to bring the offenders to justice and to prevent a repetition of such offences in the future. But I desire to call your attention to the situation relative to these offences and to the importance of the offences charged in these communications and are endeavoring to bring the offenders to justice and to prevent a repetition of such offences in the future. But I desire to call your attention to the situation relative to these offences and to the importance of the offences charged in these communications and are endeavoring to bring the offenders to justice and to prevent a repetition of such offences in the future. But I desire to call your attention to the situation relative to these offences and to the importance of the offences charged in these communications and are endeavoring to bring the offenders to justice and to prevent a repetition of such offences in the future. But I desire to call your attention to the situation relative to these offences and to the importance of the offences charged in these communications and are endeavoring to bring the offenders to justice and to prevent a repetition of such offences in the future. But I desire to call your attention to the situation relative to these offences and to the importance of the offences charged in these communications and are endeavoring to bring the offenders to justice and to prevent a repetition of such offences in the future. But I desire to call your attention to the situation relative to these offences and to the importance of the offences charged in these communications and are endeavoring to bring the offenders to justice and to prevent a repetition of such offences in the future. But I desire to call your attention to the situation relative to these offences and to the importance of the offences charged in these communications and are endeavoring to bring the offenders to justice and to prevent a repetition of such offences in the future. But I desire to call your attention to the situation relative to these offences and to the importance of the offences charged in these communications and are endeavoring to bring the offenders to justice and to prevent a repetition of such offences in the future. But I desire to call your attention to the situation relative to these offences and to the importance of the offences charged in these communications and are endeavoring to bring the offenders to justice and to prevent a repetition of such offences in the future. But I desire to call your attention to the situation relative to these offences and to the importance of the offences charged in these communications and are endeavoring to bring the offenders to justice and to prevent a repetition of such offences in the future. But I desire to call your attention to the situation relative to these offences and to the importance of the offences charged in these communications and are endeavoring to bring the offenders to justice and to prevent a repetition of such offences in the future. But I desire to call your attention to the situation relative to these offences and to the importance of the offences charged in these communications and are endeavoring to bring the offenders to justice and to prevent a repetition of such offences in the future. But I desire to call your attention to the situation relative to these offences and to the importance of the offences charged in these communications and are endeavoring to bring the offenders to justice and to prevent a repetition of such offences in the future. But I desire to call your attention to the situation relative to these offences and to the importance of the offences charged in these communications and are endeavoring to bring the offenders to justice and to prevent a repetition of such offences in the future. But I desire to call your attention to the situation relative to these offences and to the importance of the offences charged in these communications and are endeavoring to bring the offenders to justice and to prevent a repetition of such offences in the future. But I desire to call your attention to the situation relative to these offences and to the importance of the offences charged in these communications and are endeavoring to bring the offenders to